

Public Question Time and Submissions

Question from Louise Hird:

Further consultant reports have been uploaded to the Have Your Say website relating to Council's proposal to sell three early learning centres. These consultant reports include access reports, building condition reports, rental assessment reports, geotechnical reports, property risk assessments plus many more. Can council please explain how these reports will be used to assist Councillors in reaching a decision in relation to the future of these three centres? Further, can Council please explain how much has been spent in obtaining the various reports and where did this funding come from?

Response:

As noted, there are various consultant reports uploaded to the Document Library of Have Your Say webpage. These are not the subject of Council's consultation but provide information regarding the three properties/facilities and responses to the some of the queries that arose through the consultation.

The cost to Council of these assessment reports is approximately $170k over the three properties and is funded from Councils Property budget. Note that the reports have not only been valuable to Council's community consultation but are also useful to Council's management and potential development of the three properties.
