

Public Question Time

Question from Craig Eyes

What financial support is available for the powerhouse rugby club sports pavilion project?

Is there a charge for a planning permit for a not for profit sports organisation?

Will Council make us pay for the planning permit application?

Response

Parks Victoria are the land manager for your facilities and Council has not identified this project within our current Council Plan as an initiative.

Notwithstanding, Council in 2012 made a $100k financial support to the South Melbourne District Sports Club ($1.8M project) subject to Sport and Recreation Victoria funding. The best opportunity for a community group to request money for a project is through the upcoming community engagement on our Council budget.
