

CARLISLE STREET – ST KILDA FIRST NATIONS ARTWORK

March 2025

Project background

Council is commissioning a small-scale First Nations Artwork located on Carlisle Street, St Kilda (see image below).

This site is located on the corner of Carlisle and Greeves streets with significant links for Traditional Owners and presents an opportunity to work closely with them on local reconciliation.

Council is seeking a First Nations Artist/s for an artwork which will be painted directly onto the wall space allocated which incorporates First Nations themes and concepts, working with the surrounding area and respecting Traditional Owners.

The artwork will serve as an opportunity to integrate storytelling in a creative way.

The proposed new artwork will be delivered with minimum impact to the current function of the road and footpath. No native vegetation or fauna will be impacted as the proposal takes place on a wide concrete footpath.
